RE: ONLINE SOCIAL MEDIA BULLYING AND INAPPROPRIATE CONDUCT BY CERTAIN PD's

Dear Ms. Campanelli and Mr. Blanchard:

We are writing to address alarming social media comments and social media bullying that is coming from certain Cook County Public Defenders ("PD's" or "Public Defenders") on Facebook that are causing a great deal of distress to our client base, consisting of Cook County Sheriff's Deputies ("Sheriff's Deputies"). This letter follows our initial complaints sent yesterday about certain Public Defenders' derogatory social media posts about the Sheriff's Deputies. Since our last letter, the alarming online bullying coming from certain PD's has only intensified or been further uncovered. By this letter, we are demanding that your offices conduct an investigation into the cyber-bullying and other inappropriate online behavior engaged in by PD's in your office to determine whether there are violations of Cook County's Social Media Policy or other policies, Illinois Rules of Professional Responsibility, or the Open Meetings Act.

1. A Coordinated Cyber-Bullying Attack on Cook County Sheriffs:

We all have a duty to weed out bad police officers from the profession. What happened to George Floyd and others based on police misconduct must stop. Healthy discourse to motivate change is wholly embraced by the undersigned. However, an insulting rhetoric has emerged from certain PD's in the wake of the George Floyd protests, which portray police officers in the most negative and vitriolic way. These comments go far beyond free speech and diversity of opinion and instead represent hate speech and cyber-bullying. This evidence consists of the online postings of the following Public Defenders: Anthony Plaid, Wendy Fawcett, Maria Svistchova, Jennifer Vaughn, Julie Koehler, Richard Gutierrez, Megan Tomlinson, Nisha Dotson, Sarah Fransene Spelman, among others. Attached please see links to these specific public defender's Facebook pages where most of these insulting messages have been posted. Exhibit A001. We are calling for every single one of the PDs to be investigated for online social media bullying and conduct violating Cook County's Social Media Policy.

Furthermore, we would note that for all of your office's concern about racism, most of the Correctional Officers in the Howard v. Cook County Sheriff, 17-cv-8146 (Dkt. 276), suit are African-American and were exposed to masturbating inmates on a near daily basis. Yet, they have yet to see a settlement, while your largely (but not completely) white PD's office has a pending settlement – is it because your largely white lawyers should be first in line before the Black female officers who have to work with masturbating inmates in the jail nearly every day? Our point is that your office is far from in a position to be criticizing Deputy Sheriffs for racial insensitivity in light of such preferential treatment and what we have uncovered here.

a) "Make Him Famous" Campaign

To begin, this issue was brought to our attention when some Public Defenders began publicly circulating, "Let's Make him Famous" memes attached as Group Ex. A, pp. 2-21. One such meme was created by taking, without authorization, a photo from a Sheriff's Deputy's Facebook page where his wife and his grandchildren are depicted – his wife is also a Sheriff's Deputy still in active service. As a recently retired Sheriff's Deputy, the viral nature of the "Make Him Famous" meme poses a serious security risk to Sheriff's Deputies and their families. Ironically, your PD's claimed that it was their fear of security which prompted them to "expose" the Sheriff Deputy's post.¹

So too, on June 10, 2020, Cook County Public Defender, Anthony Plaid posted the following message castigating a Cook County Sheriff Deputy on his publicly available Facebook page as summarized below and attached more fully as Group Exhibit A pp. 2-16:

This is Michael Quinlan. He is currently employed by The Cook County Sheriff Tom Dart and "serves" as a courtroom deputy. He apparently didn't like the rally and march we had on Monday so he wished us "good luck" "when the courts open back up." I've unfriended a lot of us, including me (not that I care I didn't request him anyway), but didn't unfriend enough so that we didn't get the post. Maybe all those years we "turned to you for help," you should have picked up some free legal advice when we would tell our clients to not post on social media. And by "instigator," maybe you meant organizer of a peaceful protest. Funny thing is I, along with other PDs, don't even put deputies in the same boat with the police, but since you want to jump on board ... Share away people. Make him famous. #blacklivesmatter

Mr. Plaid's Facebook post about Sheriff Officer Quinlan went viral as several other public defenders reshared his Facebook post to their publicly available Facebook pages or commented on the above post. As is evident from this thread, if anyone took a contrary position, a flurry of public defenders quickly launched an insult-laden attack on these perceived opposers including epithets directed at Sheriff's Quinlan's cousin, who unsuccessfully attempted to pacify the situation. The public defender's comments insulted Sheriff's Quinlan and his cousin as summarized below and attached more fully as Exhibit A pp. 8 - 9:

Richard Gutierrez called Sheriff Quinlan's cousin an "ass hole";

Richard Gutierrez further warned him that: "[y]ou should stop. You're not making this situation any better, in fact, you're making it a whole lot worse. There's some free legal advice for you!"

Similarly, Abigail Clough warned: "Don't make it worse. Have Mike apologize."

Others, like public defender Ms. Fawcett, shared Mr. Plaid's post. Ms. Fawcett added the following commentary to her post as summarized below and attached more fully as Exhibit A pp. 17-21:

"I made a personal commitment to stand as an ally. And to be honest, I wasn't sure if I was going to post this. But again, I reminded myself that silence is violence. This is some f*cked up backlash that my colleagues are now facing for putting together the PD march on Monday. This courtroom deputy is basically making a veiled threat that he won't protect the PDs, which is his job to do. I don't know if this is the right place to start, but here is the Sheriff's customer complaint number: (773) 674-5959."

b) All Cops are Bastards

However, it became apparent that the "Make Him Famous" memes were the tip of the iceberg. Ms. Fawcett's anti-police rhetoric generalized the police profession as "a profession built and sustained by white supremacy." (Ex. A. p. 27). On June 16, 2020, Ms. Fawcett continued to wage war against the police by publicly posting: "Good news, guys! It's not all cops that are bad. 3 white people said so. 🙌" (Ex. A p. 18) Ms. Fawcett even chastised the "good cops" as she further opined on her publicly-available Facebook post that:

"these pictures and stories about the ""good cops,"" the ones who give out hugs, or conduct a traffic stop without killing the black or brown driver, it's like people want to give them a trophy for participation or whatever bullshit they are always complaining about millennials. Oh, look they did their job properly. Smile for the camera. #blacklivesmatter #defundthepolice #holdcopsaccountable." (Ex. A p. 22-24)

Ms. Fawcett's public postings became even more brazen the next day at 4:30 p.m. when she posted that #ACAB (All Cops are Bastards). Link.

Public Defender Sarah Fransene Spelman furthered the anti-police narrative by publicly posted the following tasteless joke: Q. "Why do riot police go to work early? A. to beat the crowds. ACAB" (Ex. A p. 21).

On June 8, 2020, public defender Megan Tomlinson publicly posted a comment drawing an inflammatory comparison between the May 31, 2020 riots with wrongful police raids:

"If you want to talk about looting, do you know how many times a day the Chicago Police Department breaks a family's front door down pursuant to a "raid" and tears a home apart, kills a family dog, pulls a toilet out of the floor , takes all the cash alleging its drug money, only to recover a half gram of cocaine? All from people who barely have anything to begin with." (Ex. A pp. 29-30).

c) A Facebook War with the Sheriff's Office Could be Fun

We received certain screenshots that indicate that certain PD's are advocating for a "war" with the deputies: "OHHHHH a FB war with the Sheriff's this could be fun... I wonder who will win!" See Gr. Ex. A, p. 47. Why are your PDs happy about a war with Deputy Sheriffs? Aren't they all working the courtrooms together? And then some of them try to minimize the undersigned complaint yesterday by, for example, pointing out a misspelling in Mr. Casper's email. See Gr. Exhibit A, p. 49. Are they not taking the complaint seriously? Because rather than perhaps apologizing for their bullying, this makes it appear that they, instead, are nitpicking the complaints and making fun of them.

d) The Public Defender's Office will be Your Absolute Worst Enemy

These certain public defenders have run afoul of their mission as justice for all and turned this into an "us" versus "them" narrative. This agenda became evident yesterday evening on Attorney Casper's personal Facebook page. To be clear, none of the public defenders that commented on his postings are Facebook friends with Mr. Casper. Instead, these public defenders had a coordinated, premeditated plan to bully and harass Mr. Casper and anyone that they perceived to oppose their position. While some of these messages were within the realm of healthy discourse, those statements were dwarfed by the invectives launched by certain PD's including:

- i. Threatening a private citizen that "if [you] insult my friend again, I'll be your absolute worst enemy. You have nothing to do with this thread. Stay in your lane." See Group Ex. A. p. 38.
- ii. Referring to a private citizen using "it"² and then further denigrating that individual's intelligence by stating "it can read." It in this context is construed as derogatory to the LGBT community. See Group Ex. A. p. 38.
- iii. Referring to attorney Scatchell as "troll #2."³ See Group Ex. A. p. 39.
- iv. Threatening to continue bullying attorney Casper by stating, "I have to go make you famous!" See Group Ex. A. p. 35.
- v. calling a member of the public's post a "terd [sic]"
- vi. Threatening to contact the ARDC for Mr. Casper having stood up for his client base and taken the PDs to task for their own online bullying.

As another example, Julie Koehler furthered the "us" versus "them" rhetoric posting the following reply:

And FYI, I unfriended all of my prosecutor and sheriff Facebook friends a while back. During the trial where I was on TV, many of them reported back to the judge that people were putting things on my Facebook page and Ford held me in contempt. They are not your friends and it's not a good idea to have them read your personal business. (Ex. A p. 4)

e) Public Defenders Calls to "Unseat Racist Judges"

² "it" is an offensive slur used against trans and gender non-conforming individuals

³ Attorney Scatchell handles several cyber-bullying cases including minors, professional

Certain PD's have even taken aim at "racist judges" and called on the public to "unseat racist judges." See Exhibit A p. 41. Racism has no place in the justice system. However, a bald assertion without more substance undermines the integrity of our judicial system.

Public Defendant Mary Doyle publicly posted that she "found [her] vote significant because I voted NO to retain most of the judges up for retention . . . I have an advantage of knowing a number of these judges because of my job . . . [Judge] Beatriz, Joanne, among those to whom I said yes." Exhibit A pp. 45-46. The number of judges that were up for retention in the past election was finite. Ms. Doyle narrows that list even further by affirmatively stating the judges that she voted to retain while attempting to qualify her public criticism by "knowing these judges" because of her job as a public defender. See Florida Bar v. Sean William Conway, No. SC08-326 (Fla. 2008) (Attorney made derogatory comments about the Judge holding that the attorney's behavior was prejudicial to the administration of justice).

f) Public Defender Using Sexist Verbiage.

So too, as Mr. Casper also pointed out yesterday, some of your PD's are far from using sanitized, appropriate language on the internet. Calling President Trump a "twat" and that he should "suck it"? See Group Exhibit A pp. 42-43. This is a sexist, misogynistic term. It could be we are all not in love with President Trump, but using such a degrading term for women to refer to him? We could say the same thing about the PD who posted that disgusting comment, as your PD's say about the Deputy who made his post – are your PD's fit to represent indigent women in the courtroom when they freely use sexist and misogynistic language on the internet, such as "suck it" and "twat"? We cannot say express over-confidence when we see those terms so loosely thrown around by your PD. Worse still, one of your PD's whitewash the sexist, misogynistic connotation of "twat" by citing a definition in Urban Dictionary. See Gr. Ex. A p. 44. This is the lynchpin of hypocrisy.

1. Laws Governing the Conduct of Public Defenders

We respect PD's First Amendment right to express their personal views on private online forums. However, as public servants, they are held by the public to a higher standard, and we expect that this office will exhibit civility and courtesy toward all members of the public. This is an opportunity to lead by example and to draw the line in the sand firmly that as public defenders you have a higher calling and cannot engage in hate speech that interferes with the mission of your office, which is equal justice for all.

These postings are far from peaceful, benign speech. Moreover, the aforementioned PD's conduct could be reasonably construed to be an invasion of privacy, defamatory, and tantamount to conduct unbecoming of a public defender. More importantly, these postings are not protected by the First Amendment as they interfere with and compromise your office's ability to perform its responsibilities as Assistant Public Defenders. Specifically, these statements unfairly undermine public confidence in the administration of justice by calling judges "racists," attorneys "trolls," President Trump a "twat," or telling him to "suck it" (See Gr. Ex. A, p. 42-44), demanding that Sheriff's Deputies be fired for posting "insulting" posts without due process, and telling private citizens to "stay in their lane" and "mind their own business."

Given the coordinated efforts exhibited by these certain PD's, we are also concerned about the numerous potential Open Meetings Act violations that may have ensued over the last few weeks involving six or more public defenders through their social media communications. The sequence of posts among these public defenders indicates that they have banded together to bully and insult their purported critics. This dangerous position takes a "punish first" and "investigate later" approach. This conduct is inappropriate, unprofessional, and has the potential to cause disruption to the functioning of the court system.

So too, the Sheriff's officers did not give up their constitutional rights when they became officers. However, these Deputies feel disempowered to defend themselves from these public attacks given Sheriff Dart's proclivity to harshly punish officers for minor infractions. Accordingly, while your PD's are able to bully away apparently without recourse on the Internet, our client base is largely afraid to respond and defend itself from these attacks. Your PD's are officers of the Court, have a duty to respect the Court system – including the Sheriffs who serve in the jail and in the courtrooms – and this kind of online bullying behavior from licensed attorneys undermines both the public perception of the judicial forum, as well as their obligations to the Court.

Considering the recent your office's public denouncement of certain Sheriff's Deputy's social media posts, we are personally shocked and disappointed by the pervasive and ignorant generalizations made by your own office's staff. Your office is employing a double standard and as officers of the court should lead by example and exact change without further inflaming an already dangerous situation brewing between the public and law enforcement. Accordingly, we request that your office launch an immediate internal investigation into the conduct of these court officers. Any one of these postings would be considered corrosive and incendiary. However, when viewed in the aggregate, these postings reveal a pattern of conduct that contrary to the administration of justice and is distressing to our clients, the taxpayers, and as members of the Illinois Bar and officers of the Court.

We are further informed and believe that additional postings may appear on the Public Defender's private Facebook pages and on "Black Twitter" based on the vitriol seen yesterday. See A/so Exhibit A p. 12 (Joselynn Gardner: "Please take these to Black Twitter [sic] FB does not have the same impact...") In that vein, please preserve all of the aforementioned and attached Facebook or related social media postings, Snaps, instant messages, voicemails, and other communications related to this matter, including all electronic files (e-mails, texts, calendars) and paper documents (files, presentations, diaries, calendars). The foregoing list is not exhaustive, and your Office must preserve all information relevant to this Matter. The PD's office's failure to preserve relevant data may constitute spoliation of evidence, which may subject your office to sanctions. This communication is written without waiver of or prejudice to our clients' rights or remedies, all of which are expressly reserved.

We look forward to hearing from you about how your office will be dealing with this. If we can provide further information, please let us know.

Respectfully submitted,

Jennifer Willis Ugh. Wrong on multiple levels. And while he's free to be an ass, he is not free to publicly make threats to strategically fail to do his job. No other way to interpret it.

Me gusta · Responder · 1 sem 31

Sarah Fransene Spelman totally what I was thinking... whatever about the asshole remarks as a whole, the veiled threat to not keep us safe is beyond the pale.

Me gusta · Responder · 1 sem 13

Quinlan Cathleen Jennifer Willis what threat....he has a right to voice his opinion...just like you!

Me gusta · Responder · 1 sem

Jennifer Willis Quinlan Cathleen He describes the people he is deleting as all the people who "turned to him for help at work." A clear reference to people he is tasked with protecting in court. Then he says "good luck to them all when courts open." The implication is that they will need luck because they will not have his assistance in the future. This type of threat is veiled, because it is thinly hidden rather than direct. And the law, and presumably the code of conduct for his employment, condemns both direct threats as well as veiled threats. And you're correct, we all have the right to express our opinions. But in my opinion, this crosses the line. But I suppose we'll see what happens next.

Me gusta · Responder · 1 sem 10

Quinlan Cathleen Jennifer Willis favors are not tasks...it goes beyond what his employment duties are!

Me gusta · Responder · 1 sem

Jennifer Willis Quinlan Cathleen his post says nothing about favors. He literally described the exact parameters of his employment - people in court turning to him for assistance. I would hazard a guess that not a single one of the PDs he unfriended ever asked him for a favor.

Every single one of us who read this interpreted it as a threat.

But again, I expect whatever supervisor or governing entity who reviews behavior at the Sheriff's department will resolve this issue for us all.

I think you're a little bit confused about your "rights" to free speech. We have the right to march against police brutality. Your cousin has a right to criticize us. We, then, have the right to criticize him for that criticism, as well as rightfully reporting him for threatening to refuse Public Defenders protection in the courtroom. "Free speech" cuts both ways.

I made a personal commitment to stand as an ally. And to be honest, I wasn't sure if I was going to post this. But again, I reminded myself that silence is violence. This is some f * cked up backlash that my colleagues are now facing for putting together the PD march on Monday. This courtroom deputy is basically making a veiled threat that he won't protect the PDs, which is his job to do. I don't know if this is the right place to start, but here is the Sheriff's customer complaint number: (773) 674-5959.

Jeannette Wize Keeping positive, and speaking up do work. You've given me many details to consider, and to speak out on within my community. Speaking respectfully, and powerfully IS possible. I'm not asking you to be subservient (in case that was interpreted that way). I will continue to listen to your perspective, as listening is very important. Thoughts and prayers DO help, but they need the voice of change to BE heard too - not empty lip service of "I'll pray for you". Also, in case this is not clear, "all cops" are not in the right, but distinguishing those that are - from those that aren't - IS still important. It's not about "rewarding for required job completion", but helping to keep from potential generalities getting interpreted as "all are bad". Still with sincerity and respect.

I like · Reply · 1 d · Edited

Amy Smith Wendy Fawcett Exactly. Being respectful, submissive, & nice gets us hit with rubber bullets, pepper spray, blamed for the rioting and looting that whypipo are doing, and we are still being targeted, harassed, hurt, and killed by cops even after George Floyd's murder. Everyone who's said more the last few days about property and buildings, but didn't have a word to say about a black man's death at the hands of a cop, excuse me, by the knee of a cop ... I see you. 🙄 oh I know, I know. You don't support "those actions." Yes, you do. We ALL do! You pay taxes? You pay that man's salary. We pay the salaries of dudes with badges who have the PRIVILEGE to carry a badge. And with that PRIVILEGE, and with our support, they kill when they decide. (Or sometimes they just shoot in the back, or buttock, or leg.) And OVERWHELMINGLY, THEY DECIDE TO KILL BLACK AND BROWN PEOPLE. Your tax dollars are spent supporting a culture (police department culture) that is racist and furthers white supremacy. (Your tax dollars are also spent in settlement $$$) And you're concerned about STORES! STORES! Not LIVES? Stores. Ok. I see you.

You know what I've been thinking about? As attorneys (in Illinois) if we think or know another attorney has done something unethical or engaged in misconduct, we have a duty to report it, and if we don't, we could be disciplined. You know why? We're in a position of trust. You know who else is (allegedly) in position of trust? The police. But CPD has the code of silence. They back each other up. They lie for each other. They cover for each other. They say things like "I'm live" to let each other know their BWC camera is on. Isn't it time we hold cops accountable? #blacklivesmatter #HoldCopsAccountable #defundthepolice

Prosecutors cannot prove intent to murder George Floyd? Let's talk about intent. Since cannabis became legal in Illinois, the Chicago Police Department has repeatedly arrested and charged young black and brown men who are found with small amounts of cannabis on their person, with the felony offense of possession with intent to sell cannabis, where there is absolutely no evidence of intent to sell it. These officers charge these black and brown men with class 3 felonies simply by alleging intent to sell, thus punishable by 2-5 years in prison, for possessing cannabis which is perfectly legal for white citizens of Illinois. You're disgusted with looting a Target? I'm disgusted with police officers purposefully ruining a young person's life by arresting them and sending them to prison for something that those officers know is perfectly legal. And then prosecutors want to say they cannot prove intent to murder George Floyd. SMH.

COOK COUNTY COURT SERVICE DEPUTIES:

This is Cook County PD Anthony Plaid. He engages in online social media bullying as part of Cook County's SOCIAL-MEDIA-POLICE-FORCE-ONE by posting personal pictures of a Deputy and encouraging others to bully him. He should have taken life advice from some of his own clients, and not engaged in online bullying! LET'S MAKE HIM FAMOUS AS A SOCIAL MEDIA BULLY!

#ENDHISTAXPAYERFUNDING

Anthony Plaid
57 mins · 🌐

This is [REDACTED]. He is currently employed by The Cook County Sheriff Tom Dart and "serves" as a courtroom deputy. He apparently didn't like the rally and march we had on Monday so he wished us "good luck" "when the courts open back up." He unfriended a lot of us, including me (not that I care I didn't request him anyway), but didn't unfriend enough so that we didn't get the post. Maybe all those years we "turned to you for help," you should have picked up some free legal advice when we would tell our clients to not post on social media. And by "instigator," maybe you meant organizer of a peaceful protest. Funny thing is I, along with other PDs, don't even put deputies in the same boat with the police ,but since you want to jump on board...Share away people. Make him famous.

That's wonderful that you PERSONALLY have no issue. However, you speak of hypocrisy on the left side of your mouth (so to speak) without acknowledgment the ONLINE bullying of the BLACK PD's on the other. How does that correlate in your mind?

Me gusta · Responder · 41 min · Editado

So because you claim that one of the Deputies said something that offended PDs, that justifies a bunch of online bullying from your office? YOU guys are the ones speaking of both sides of your mouths. Furthermore, one of the collages WAS NOT EVEN OF THE PERSON YOU ARE REFERRING TO! IT WAS SOMEONE ELSE ENTIRELY! That's what I'm saying here: YOU GUYS MADE A COLLAGE OF A DEPUTY WHO DID NOT MAKE THAT POST!

Cass Casper And see - that's fine with me, because my position is solid here. Furthermore, that kind of social media bullying from you is exactly what I'm talking about. How's it any different for your office to berate and retaliate against me with social media bullying -- especially after I filed a complaint -- than what you complain of?

Maria Svistchova Well we will see about your solid ground. Bottom line remains. The deputy was in the wrong 100% what he said was a threat to not protect the public defenders that were at the BLM protest. He was called out for it. And rightfully so. I would think you would have been certain before other PDs start engaging in widespread online social media bullying over it.

ABOUT THIS WORD

What does twat mean?

Twat is vulgar slang for "vagina." It's also used, especially in British English slang, a way to call someone as stupid, useless, or otherwise contemptible people.

Content warning: the following sections include further references to sexual and sexist content, which is involved in the history and use of the slang term. This article also also contains references to other items of strong language.

Yes, indeed, I did vote today! I'm in Cook County and my vote was more of an FU to Trump than thinking that my vote would make a difference to the elections as a whole. Cook County goes Democratic, you know. JB is going to win, so my vote was a miniscual point. I think Kwame Raoul will win, so my vote may count. I will admit now, after the election, that I think Kwame is a doofus. But, he is better than the alternative when it comes to some issues. Let's hope he follows through.

I also found my vote significant because I voted NO to retain most of the judges up for retention. At least 3 of these judges have not been recommended by several lawyer organizations and at least one has been severely criticized by the appellate court. Plus, I have difficulty in blindly voting to retain judges, especially when there is not much information out there about them and a vote to retain is a vote to give them a salary of over $200,000 for, practically, life. I have an advantage of knowing a number of these judges because of my job. In the end, yes, indeed, there were several judges that I did vote to retain and/or vote to elect because I believe in them (Beatriz, Joanne, among those to whom I said yes).

Finally, it did take a little bit of time for me to check in to vote this morning. I told the lady several times, probably 4 or more, that my address was 244. She kept looking for 224. Then, my signature raised some eyebrows. My signature has significantly changed in the past 7 years, going from a somewhat legible Mary Doyle to a somewhat legible MHDoyle, to a somewhat legible MDoyle, to a scribble MDoyle.

I saw the election judges' judgmental facial expressions and informed them that my signature had, indeed, changed a lot over the years. The one judge judgmentally said "Yes it has." However, I never offered to show them my ID.

And, then, I voted. Yay!!

Kenneth Peve When I heard Kwame speak at the rally I attended on Sunday, it raised my eyebrows. He said he was the son of Haitian immigrants, born 3 years before his mother became a citizen and that Haiti wasn't a shithole country. I felt he was making a very personal acknowledgement of the difference between him and his opponent's party.

I'm glad it was sent to the inspector general. Because it sounds like it's possible that sheriffs are retaliating. For public defenders exercising their right to complain about workplace comments and conditions. I will be interested in seeing how that is resolved. It's the functional equivalent of one of our clients walking out with a manila envelope. I can't believe how ridiculously stupid that is
